DETAILED ACTION

This is written in reference to application number 09/883258 filed on June 19, 2001.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-2 and 14-15, drawn to a polymeric material having at least 45% ethylene repeating unit and an organic peroxide, classified in class 526, subclass 227.
  - II. Claims 3-6, drawn to a laminated body, classified in class 428, subclass 420.
  - III. Claim 7, drawn to a method of producing a laminated body, classified in class 430, subclass 320.
  - IV. Claims 8-9, drawn to a printing plate using the material of group I, classified in class 101, subclass 457.
  - V. Claims 10-13, drawn to a printing plate capable of being peeled at the interface, classified in class 101, subclass 463.1.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination can use any crosslinked polymer to make the claimed laminated body. The subcombination has separate utility such as a material useful in the construction of images or patterns and in the construction of liquid crystal display devices and semiconductors.

3. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as in the formation of images or patterns and in the construction of liquid crystal display devices and semiconductors.

4. Inventions I and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as in the formation of images or patterns and in the construction of liquid crystal display devices and semiconductors.

5. Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as a photoresist image or pattern.

6. Inventions II and V are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful as a laminated body which can be used to in the construction of semiconductor devices and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Inventions I/V, II/IV, III/IV, III/V and IV/V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are (1) a polymeric material comprising an ethylene repeating unit and an organic peroxide; (2) a laminated body comprising a polymer layer and a base layer wherein the polymer layer only has to comprising an ethylenic copolymer; (3) a method of making a laminated body; (4) a method of making a printing plate comprising a polymeric material comprising an ethylene repeating unit and an organic peroxide; and (5) a printing plate capable of being peeled at the interface.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1752

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the electronic search required for each of the groups is different, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

11. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Yvette M. Clarke whose telephone number is 703-305-0589. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday 8-6:30.

13. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Janet C. Baxter can be reached on 703-308-2303.
